22 February – 17 May 2020

me Collectors Room Berlin / Olbricht Foundation
Auguststrasse 68, 10117 Berlin
Opening hours: Wed – Mon, noon – 6 p.m.

10 years of me Collectors Room Berlin – this anniversary is good cause for celebration, with the collector inviting us to join him from 22.02. – 17.05.2020 in an intimate, behind-the-scenes look at the famously eclectic Olbricht Collection, and Olbricht Foundation’s diverse activities.

Flows of energy pass through us, moving us, our world, and everything in our universe. Thomas Olbricht has often also described his experience and life with art as a flow of energy that he likes to share with as many people as possible. Our art space in fact took its name after this wish of his: moving energies – me Collectors Room Berlin.

To mark our tenth anniversary, the collector’s private living quarters, storerooms, and offices – the spaces where the ideas for art shows and art events first take seed – will be reconstructed in the exhibition galleries. On display will be a characteristic blend of precious historical artefacts from the Wunderkammer and other collector’s items, presented alongside artworks by artists to have featured in solo exhibitions in the last ten years – such as William N. Copley, Andreas Slominski, Cindy Sherman, Claire Fontaine, and Thomas Schütte – whose art now appears beside an array of other works also in the Olbricht Collection but previously unshown, by artists as various as Nicole Eisenman, Katharina Grosse, Anselm Kiefer, Ernst Wilhelm Nay, Dana Schutz, and Karin Kneffel. And in this anniversary show, the work of Gerhard Richter again plays a pivotal role, this time with the focus on his abstracts.
